

CONCERT FILLED SLAYER HALL

New York Symphony Orchestra Concluded Academy Musical Course—Noted Organization, With Walter Damrosch Conducting, Gave Splendid Programme—Big Audience Enthusiastic in Its Applause.

The last and best in the Academy musical course was given on Wednesday evening at Slater Memorial hall to an audience which left very few vacant seats in the hall or annex. Everyone appreciated the opportunity presented in the appearance of the New York Symphony orchestra, conducted by Walter Damrosch and most thoroughly enjoyed the splendid concert given by this noted organization of the Unfinished Symphony by Schubert. The great enthusiasm shown by the audience for the perfect work of the orchestra in these selections brought out the Toreador song from Carmen as an encore number.

The second programme commenced with Mozart's Concerto for Violin in two movements, the solo part being taken by Alexander Sadykoff. Laidonette and Beauty and the Beast from Mother Goose Suite, by Maurice Ravel, were interesting from their newness as well as from their musical composition. The next number was added to the programme being given by request. This was the first part of the Peer Gynt Suite, including the Break of Day, Death of Ase, Anti-Christ's Dance, and in the Hall of the Mountain King. Needless to say they were beautifully interpreted.

The last number was the weird and striking March Slav by Tchaikovsky. The whole programme was a liberal education in music and one which will long be remembered by all those privileged to attend. It will be their wish that the Symphony orchestra may repeat their visit to Norwich before very long.

HELPFUL WORDS

From a Norwich Citizen.

Is your back lame and painful? Does it ache especially after exertion? Is there soreness in the kidney region? These symptoms suggest weak kidneys. If so there is danger in delay. Weak kidneys get fast weaker. Give your trouble prompt attention. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys. Your neighbors use and recommend them. Read this Norwich testimony. Mrs. Catherine Hogan, 22 Hickory Street, Norwich, Conn., says: "I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, prepared at N. D. Sevin & Son's Drug Store, as highly today as when I gave a public statement in their praise three years ago. This remedy cured me of a severe attack of kidney complaint, causing the pain in my back and disorders of the kidney secretions to disappear after everything else had failed to help me. I will always recommend Doan's Kidney Pills." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. ### BILLS THAT AFFECT

THE PROBATE COURT.
Discussed at Annual Assembly at Hartford on Wednesday.

In the annual meeting of the Connecticut probate assembly at Hartford on Wednesday the legislative committee of the association made report on the bills that have been introduced into the general assembly affecting the probate court. The most important amendments requested to an existing law provides that creditors outside the state are to be given the same length of time as is given creditors within the state, having claims against an estate.

When does a will become a public document? was spiritedly discussed. While the law says that when a will is filed for probate it becomes in reality a matter of public record.

News When It Is News.

Judge Baxter, who is at the same time editor of the Naugatuck Daily News, warmly championed the cause of the newspaper fraternity. He said the people looked to the newspapers to get the news when it was news, and he felt that the probate court should be out of the facts as soon as they became public property legally. The matter was referred to the legislative committee to take such action as they see fit regarding the bill before the general assembly to the effect "That when a will is approved and admitted to probate or an inventory filed with the court, said bill or inventory shall be considered public documents and accessible to public inspection during the usual business hours of the court."

The subject of the establishment of a juvenile court was thoroughly discussed. It was a bill introduced in the general assembly places the entire jurisdiction over delinquent juveniles in the hands of the probate court. The opinion generally expressed was that the establishment of juvenile court work was a step in the right direction, but that the bill was not as well advised as it should be. It was decided to add this duty to the work already done by the probate court. The whole subject was referred to the legislative committee to consider, and present to the special committee of the general assembly having charge of these bills.

AUTOMOBILE CASE

IN SUPERIOR COURT.
Defense Has Been Begun in Case Brothers vs. Connecticut Company.

The motorman of the trolley which struck and wrecked the auto in Rockville was on the stand in the case of Frank A. and Amos C. Case vs. the Connecticut company, in which the plaintiffs ask $3,000 for the ruin of their automobile in a collision with a trolley, in the superior court at New London Wednesday. He testified to the fact that the car was struck by the trolley, and that he was injured.

The evidence for the plaintiffs was completed and the defense was begun and will continue today. Agnes Whitney of New London vs. New Haven road is scheduled to follow this case. The plaintiff sues for the loss of her car, which was struck by an engine in New London. It is claimed that the woman was trespassing on the road when she was struck. The suit was tried once before.

GROUNDHOG SEEMS

TO BE MAKING GOOD.
Real Winter is Here Now—Temperature Near Zero Point.

In contrast to the springlike weather of ten days ago Norwich is experiencing some real winter with the mercury always within striking distance of the zero mark. Although probably at no time has the thermometer registered below zero, it has been on several mornings this week in that immediate vicinity. The freezing of Tuesday's snow and clush made walking uncertain Wednesday and the roads were coated with ice making travel difficult for the horses. Ice is reported about eight inches in thickness and although there is some snow on the ponds there is no doubt but that the winter is coming into his own.

The winter has been a remarkably open one, with but an occasional flurry of snow and no ice up to two weeks ago. The groundhog's shadow promised six weeks of winter and now we're getting it.

British Steamer Leaking.
Newport News, Va., Feb. 12.—Leaking, short of coal and with her after wheel house carried away and steering gear badly damaged, the British steamer Meridian which is enroute from Shields to Nipe Bay, Cuba, put into port today with one of her engines disabled. The ship was thirty days making the trip usually made in from twelve to sixteen days and she had barely enough coal in her bunkers to reach port.

American Steamer Springs Leak.
Wilmington, S. C., Feb. 12.—The American steamer Lassell, 1223 tons, Brunswick, Ga., to New York, put into Southport today with one of her holds full of water, having sprung a leak during yesterday's gale between Cape Hatteras and Frying Pan shoal. The steamer was beached and after being pumped out will repair and proceed north. The revenue cutter Shenandoah and a tug are standing by her.

Fifty Elk Escape.
Elkins, W. Va., Feb. 12.—Fifty elk recently received from Wyoming, broke through a fence of a game preserve during a storm today and fled into the mountains. The herd was brought back this winter made in the wild game, and protection of large wild game.

Any way, a married man never has to stay any time in making up his mind.

LITTLE BUSINESS FOR

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.
Senator Johnson of Montville Explains His Vote Against Cadwell.

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 12.—There was an insignificant amount of business for the general assembly to give attention to today. The tension among the democrats over the rejection of the governor's nomination of Mr. Cadwell was shown in a statement declared that he intended to send in another name, and that he was against a three headed commission. The feeling prevailed that the governor would not have Attorney General Light press charges against Commissioner MacDonald at this time.

The mileage for members problem was in the senate, and while there was unanimity of opinion that members ought to have transportation at the state's expense, there was difference of opinion as to the means to be employed to get it from the railroads. As it now stands, the bill to compel the railroads to give transportation in exchange for the constitutional 25 cents a mile round trip has been referred to different committees by the three branches and a committee on conference has been named to decide which committee shall get it. This afternoon the judicial committee held hearings on appointments of higher court judges, while the special committee of the senate looked into the circumstances of the "three finger bribe" spoken of by Senator Hurley in connection with the highway commissioner's statement.

Senator Johnson's Statement.

Senator Johnson's statement was as follows: "Because of an article in the newspapers I find it necessary to explain why I voted against Mr. Cadwell. I did not enter the debate because I did not agree with him and I reserve the right to hold up the New London harbor bill. I had the honor to be a member of the sub-committee that helped to draw up the democratic platform, and I want to state I stand by every word that the democratic platform infers in relation to the highway commissioner's statement. I want that office put on a business basis so that $1,000,000 worth of goods will be delivered for every million dollars in money. These pointed shafts have been directed at New London county, and I want to say right here that I have opposed Bryan P. Mahan in any measure in which I did not agree with him and I will continue to do so when I do not agree with him and I reserve the right in this senate to oppose any measure in which I cannot consistently agree. The democratic party is in trial in this state and did not get a majority of the votes of the electors. It is here by chance. I stand with that party for highway commissioner, but I do not approve of the mere swap of one incompetent for another incompetent and I could not stand for it yesterday."

NEWSPAPER HEADLINES.
Strange Case of Brooklyn Man Who Had Been Missing Eight Days.

New York, Feb. 12.—George J. Luhn of Brooklyn sat beside a stranger in the railroad station at Bridgeport, Conn., yesterday afternoon and glanced at the headlines of his newspaper. One of them read: "Search for Missing Mayor of Rugby."

And it was Mr. Luhn, who is known as the "Mayor of Rugby"—a section of Brooklyn—had been missing from his home for eight days. He was a victim of amnesia. When he recovered his memory in the station at Bridgeport he found a loaded revolver in his pocket. He reached home in a state of nervous collapse today.
